Swiftwater Bridge Opened; One-Way Traffic Maintained

ROUTE 611 TRAFFIC picked up speed yesterday as the Swiftwater bridge opened for the first time since last Thursday night when it was destroyed by flood waters of Pocono Creek.

The bridge is a one-way span, just to the left of the original bridge, but it carries traffic with little delay. It does away with a long detour, which sometimes required one hour to travel.

The Swiftwater bridge is a corrugated metal structure covered with tons of dirt. First traffic traveled the span at 4:30 p. m. Definite progress has been made on other bridges in the region. A Bailey bridge is expected to be completed on Stroudsburg's Bridge St. today and clean up work is continuing on two bridges in Bartonsville and the Pocono bridge, on Stroudsburg's W. Main St.

Other bridges, under private contractors, are also being prepared for spans. A bridge is in the process of being shipped from Williamsport to Stroudsburg and it will be used to span the Brodheads Creek just above where State bridge "died" before last week's flood.

The contractor is already at work and preliminary labor began on the construction yesterday.

Route 90 is open from East Stroudsburg to Ansonia and from Mount Pocono into Cresco and Canadensis.

Claude Metzgar, superintendent of highways, said last night that it may be a month before the "Creek Road" to Canadensis is open to traffic.

Route 209 Open North Of Boroughs

ECHO LAKE — Route 209 from East Stroudsburg right through the Delaware Valley is open and in full use of traffic, it was reported yesterday.

The bridge at Bushkill is open to unobstructed one-way traffic, but yesterday Secretary of Highways Joseph J. Lawler directed the temporary strip be extended to two lanes while in this area on an inspection tour.

People in the Echo Lake area coped with the disaster capably under the direction of Ernest Booth, Civil Defense leader in the area.

Speculation As To Cause
This gives rise to the belief, the coroner continued, that possibly one of the protective mats slipped out of place and telescoped the flying concrete fragments along the single trajectory.

Dr. Rushmore noted that on-lookers have been repeatedly asked by workmen to move further away from the blasting area. In the future, a special officer will be stationed on each side of the creek to enforce this request.

Meanwhile three of the five injured remain at Monroe County General Hospital. They are Lola Cardwell, 8, 1129 Dr. Fisher Ave.; Patricia Ann Cardwell, 12, the Dr. Fisher Ave. address; and Harry Heller, 11, 1103 Main St. They all are in fair condition.

Torquato landed at East Stroudsburg airport after an aerial tour of the disaster area. He said he had been "horrified and shocked by the extent of damages caused by the flood in this area."

"A Lot Of Work . . ."
"It will take a lot of work to get this area back to normal again," Torquato said. He praised the work being done by employees of the BES and employment offices in East Stroudsburg.

Torquato's plan for a meeting on needs in the area was revealed after a meeting between the secretary and Frank Maguire, district head of BES. Others attending the meeting, at the S. Sixth St. office were William Davlin, new State secretary of commerce; Genevieve Blatt, secretary of internal affairs and Charles Reaser Jr., director of the State employment service.

More than 12,000 eastern Pennsylvania firms, including those in Monroe County, will be asked to submit reports on the extent of curtailment of production, reduction in employment, and the estimated time needed for production and employment to regain normal levels.

In addition to this information, Maguire added, estimates will be made of the nature and cost of damage to property, machinery, equipment, fixtures and industrial inventories. The surveyed firm will also be asked to indicate the amount and type of financial assistance required in order to regain normal production.

Dr. Maguire said any employer who does not receive a survey form within the next few days, and who suffered loss or unemployment because of the disaster, may obtain the forms by calling the district office. The number is 4036.

"All employers in this area who have had property loss or reduction in employment are urged to complete the form as quickly as possible," he said. "Employers who suffered no loss need not complete the survey reports. In fact, they are requested NOT to do so."

Gov. Leader will present the results of this review to Federal authorities when he seeks financial aid in rebuilding homes and businesses in the disaster areas.

Jaycees To Aid
In Flood Work

A CONTINGENT of 150 Jaycees from 40 chapters in Pennsylvania will arrive here this morning to help in the flood cleanup, Jaycee Jerry Rubin reported last night.

Some of the group will remain in Stroudsburg and the remainder will go to the Newfoundland area.

Gothe Brings
Load Of Clothes

DAVID GOTHE, New York dress designer, who has a home at Little Pond Farm in the Franklin Hill section, arrived yesterday from New York with his car filled with cases of new clothes which he and other manufacturers of his acquaintance were donating to the flood stricken in Monroe County.

He turned the clothing over to the Red Cross for distribution wherever they might be needed.

57 Million Fund Proposed For State-Owned Projects

No Apparent Negligence Found In Dynamite Blast That Took Kiefer's Life

THE DYNAMITE BLAST which resulted in the death of a 16-year-old Stroudsburg boy Thursday afternoon, last night was termed "a freak accident" by Dr. Charles H. Rushmore, Monroe County coroner.

Jon L. Kiefer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Murrel R. Kiefer, 11 Storm St., was killed and five others injured by the explosion set off by workmen repairing the flood-battered Pocono Creek bridge on W. Main St.

Dr. Rushmore said there was no apparent negligence on the part of employees of the contractor, J. Richard Nissley Construction Co., Landisville.

However, Stroudsburg Police Chief James McConnell reported that the contractor has agreed to hire two officers to keep crowds back while the men are working. The special officers will be sworn in at 10 this morning before Burgess Hal Harris.

Investigations into the post-flood tragedy were conducted yesterday by the coroner, the State Police and representatives of the insurance company covering the project.

Both Dr. Rushmore and State Trooper Peter Walsh indicated that their investigations have been completed.

Dr. Rushmore, elaborating on his belief the mishap was a freak of nature, pointed out that the debris flew in only one direction—the direction in which Jon and the others were standing.

This gives rise to the belief, the coroner continued, that possibly one of the protective mats slipped out of place and telescoped the flying concrete fragments along the single trajectory.

Dr. Rushmore noted that on-lookers have been repeatedly asked by workmen to move further away from the blasting area. In the future, a special officer will be stationed on each side of the creek to enforce this request.

East Borough Health Board Issues Rules

EAST STROUDSBURG'S massive cleanup job, already underway, can be greatly facilitated by following a set of rules and suggestions approved by East Stroudsburg Board of Health and approved by State Health Department.

All of the rules are basically for the protection of the individual from the standpoint of health, board members said.

They are:

Personal protection: keep hands out of mouth, wear boots while doing cleanup; do not eat, drink or smoke without thoroughly washing hands in hot soapy water; after finishing work, clean boots thoroughly; keep work clothes away from family and bath or shower as soon as possible.

Furnishings
Household furnishings: all flood soaked upholstered furniture, mattresses, rugs and pillows should be thrown away. Some of these items may be salvaged by thorough cleaning with soap and water and drying in the sun for several days.

Any article which can be boiled for twenty minutes such as towels, linens, curtains, drapes and similar articles can be saved.

Anything which did not become flood soaked can be saved. Flood soaked clothing that can be boiled 20 minutes can be used. Clothes which cannot be boiled, can be dried thoroughly in the sun and then dry cleaned.

Commercially canned food stuffs in tins, not requiring refrigeration, may be saved. Discard all other foods including bottled drinks. If desired to save jars and bottles, discard contents and boil the container for 20 minutes.

Home Cleaning
In cleaning homes, shovel out mud and refuse to curb. Hoses down all flood damaged surfaces. If necessary, call fire department—163—for assistance. After cleaning with hot soapy water, all surfaces should be thoroughly washed with warm water containing Lysol, Clorox or some other disinfectant.

Both Drowned In Flood
Both Lang and Harmer were drowned in the flood. Both had been staying near Canadensis. Both bodies were recovered near East Stroudsburg and were taken to Lanterman funeral home in that borough.

Harmer's relatives identified one of the bodies as his early this week. The body identified as Harmer was taken to Philadelphia from Stroudsburg and services were planned.

The Lang family, however, Thursday night positively identified the body as that of Edward J. Lang, 54, of 5949 Cobb Creek, Philadelphia.

A New Identification
The results brought about identification of a body previously listed only as "Man No. 7" as David Harmer, of Philadelphia.

Identification was made through dental records provided by the family in Philadelphia, Rushmore said. Additional proof will be given from fingerprint records in that city, the coroner indicated.

There were no other changes in the listing of the dead yesterday. A total of 19 persons are still listed as missing on official records, however.

Monies received go directly towards individual relief of flood stricken people.

Stroudsburg
To Get Gas

NATURAL GAS service will be restored to some sections of Stroudsburg today, it was reported early this morning by Lawton Bourn, manager of Citizens Gas Co.

The borough has been without service since flood waters ripped away the main that spanned Brodheads Creek at the State Bridge. Service was restored in East Stroudsburg earlier in the week.

That "section of Stroudsburg west of the Pocono Creek Bridge on W. Main St. will not have service until such time as a new main is placed across the creek at Bridge St., Bourn said.

Lions Clubs
Donate Cash

THE CHESTER Lions Club membership contributed $1,000 and the Nazareth Lions Club $100 towards disaster flood relief in the Monroe County area.

Stroudsburg Lions Club was advised last night of the action of both organizations.

Officers of the club will make a disposition of these funds to a sound agency for most effective relief.

Daily Record To Publish Flood Edition

The Daily Record will take orders immediately at its office, 18 N. Seventh St., Stroudsburg, for a special edition, covering with pictorial and editorial matter, all phases of the flood from its start Thursday, August 18, through all phases of the emergency and recovery to a state of normalcy.

Persons who have been unable to obtain all copies of The Daily Record's editions since the flood started will be able to have the whole story in one newspaper if orders are filed promptly at The Daily Record office, 18 N. Seventh St., Stroudsburg.

All of the pictures this newspaper has run to date, plus scores it was unable to run due to lack of space will be utilized. Persons who have taken photographs of flood scenes or any activity associated with the disaster are asked to submit prints and negatives to The Daily Record. If these photos are used, credit lines will be given the owner.

Date of the special issue's publication will be announced in the near future.

Special Tax
On Gasoline
Recommended

HARRISBURG, Aug. 26 (AP) — A special legislative committee tonight recommended appropriating a total of 57 million dollars in emergency funds to pay for damage done to public property by recent floods in northeastern Pennsylvania.

The bipartisan group conferring in the office of Gov. Leader, recommended that 45 million of this amount be taken from the Commonwealth's motor fund through enactment of an emergency one cent a gallon extra tax on gasoline. The present state tax is five cents.

Yetter, Scott Attend
The remaining 12 million would be appropriated from the state's general fund earmarked for flood disaster purposes. No definite tax was suggested to raise this amount.

The recommendations were announced after a three-hour session staged by the six-member committee including three senators and three representatives.

The group included Sens. Joseph J. Yosko (D—Northampton), William Z. Scott (R—Carbon) and Edward J. Kessler (R—Lancaster) and Reps. Adam T. Bower (R—Northumberland), Van D. Yetter (D—Monroe) and William J. Reidenbach (D—Lackawanna).

The announcement of the committee's recommendations was made by Henry Leader, the governor's brother and legislative aide, who acted as secretary at the meeting.

Goals Before Assembly
The six lawmakers acted as a subcommittee for a more numerous legislative delegation representing the disaster areas at a conference earlier with Gov. Leader.

Their recommendations will go to the General Assembly which convenes here on Monday after a two-week recess.

Business pertaining to the raising of the funds for the disaster rehabilitation is expected to keep both chambers of the assembly in session until next Friday. A minimum five days is required to get a new bill through both houses.

The largest portion of the recommended appropriations would come from the motor fund because most damage suffered on Commonwealth property was on highways and bridges.

Stream Channel Work
The committee estimated that approximately $10,000,000 will be required for stream channel clearance and rectifying stream flow, with the balance required by the Departments of Health, Military Assistance and Public Assistance and the Civil Defense Council for other services.

It was decided that 30 millions should be provided for the Highways Department for reconstruction of highways and bridges damaged by the surging floods with another 15 million made available to cities, boroughs and townships for assistance in the repair and reconstruction of locally maintained roads and bridges.

The committee's suggestions that the state's present five-cent-a-gallon tax be boosted to six cents in the current emergency was based on a recommendation by the entire legislative delegation that all funds should be provided on a pay-as-you-go basis.

Motorists Urged
To Avoid Travel
Into Poconos

HARRISBURG, Aug. 25 (AP) — Motorists were cautioned today by the state Highways Department against traveling into the flood-ravaged Pocono Mountains of eastern Pennsylvania over the weekend.

Joseph J. Lawler, secretary of highways, said department crews are still working around the clock to repair damaged roads and bridges and it will be "several days" before any but necessary traffic will be permitted on the roads.

In discouraging travel in the area, the secretary warned motorists that traffic is moving at a very slow pace on temporary routes and that many spots have only one lane traffic.

Conditions indicate a slow and rather erratic movement during the next 12 to 24 hours but generally toward the northwest or north northwest, the bureau added.

Edith Slows
Forward Push

MIAMI, Fla., Aug. 26 (AP)—Edith, the hurricane with the cold heart, slowed her forward movement over the Atlantic today but continued to kick the ocean into a frenzy with 80-mile winds.

The Miami Weather Bureau said the hurricane was centered in approximately latitude 25.8 north, longitude 63.6 west or 950 miles Southeast of Cape Hatteras, N. C. This was about 1,050 miles due east of Miami.

Average movement, the Weather Bureau said, was toward the northwest at 6 to 8 miles per hour.

"Hurricane winds are occurring in squalls over a small area near the center principally in the northeast quadrant and gales extend outward some 150 miles to the north and east and 75 miles to the southwest of center," the advisory said.

Conditions indicate a slow and rather erratic movement during the next 12 to 24 hours but generally toward the northwest or north northwest, the bureau added.

GEE, DAD,
YOU'RE SWELL!

It is a wise father who takes time out now and then to be chummy with his boy and to participate in his sports. The lad in the picture beams his pleasure as his dad prepares to "pitch him a few."

The bond of companionship between a good father and his son is one of the most helpful influences that can come into the life of a boy. Boys who enjoy such companionship seldom go astray.

What a striking contrast we observe in the other picture! Guilt and fear are written on the face of the boy with the stolen fruit. He has started on the long and painful road that leads to disaster.

Juvenile delinquency is one of the great social problems of our time. Unwholesome influences are abroad in the world to lead children astray. Without parental guidance, many of them drift into evil ways.

Parents need the help of God and the counsel of the Church in meeting this responsibility.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . .
ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Council Asks Continued Use Of Guardsmen As Patrolmen

Police Kept Busy With Many Duties

A REQUEST that National Guardsmen remain in Stroudsburg to supplement existing police in handling traffic and other control problems in flood-stricken areas where cleanup work is moving swiftly was filed yesterday with Gen. Anthony Biddle, adjutant general of Pennsylvania by Chief Burgess Hal H. Harris.

Stroudsburg Council and Chief Burgess Harris found the citizen-soldiers will be needed for some time until the cleanup of the flooded areas is under control and homes are cleaned and secured in cases where they have been abandoned.

Police Duties

Meanwhile, Stroudsburg's police force under Chief of Police James F. McConnell are busy aiding traffic movement of equipment and carrying out other duties associated with facilitating the cleanup.

A portable steam generating unit was obtained and sent into the flood area to help homeowners thoroughly sterilize their residences.

Most of the cleanup work, including pick up of ruined personal belongings and the cleaning of streets, alleys and backyards is being carried out by Don Smith, a contractor retained by the corps of engineers.

Home cleaning is up to the tenant or landlord, and many have been brought around in excellent shape except to proper sterilization or fumigation.

Firemen Hired

Stroudsburg firemen, hired by council, moved into the area with trucks and large and small hose lines to help flush out homes where cleanup work just started.

Council hired James Somers, one of the Civil Defense chiefs to assist council, its cleanup and other programs.

Members of council are in frequent contact with officials of Monroe County Water Co. and Corps of Engineers on various details of the movement back to normalcy.

Salvation Army Canteens To Continue Serving Area

FOUR LARGE mobile canteens manned by the Salvation Army emergency service from Philadelphia have been in continuous service in Monroe County since Monday. The service will continue, a spokesman said.

The canteens have served on an average of from 7,000 to 10,000 cups of coffee per day in Stroudsburg alone since their arrival. They also serve orange juice, milk and soup.

A regular canteen schedule was set up to serve the needs of the National Guard and men in outlying areas on guard duty. The canteens have made continuous runs with one group serving the flood-devastated residential areas and the other serving crews working on reconstruction.

Stroudsburg - East Stroudsburg Operations for the Stroudsburg area have been at the Methodist Church and the YMCA. In East Stroudsburg the headquarters was the local citadel under direction of Capt. Charles Baker.

Pipe Is Due Tonight For Water System

A SHIPMENT of pipe and fittings for repair of damaged water mains in Stroudsburg is slated to arrive sometime tonight.

This announcement was one of several encouraging signs given by Corps of Engineers spokesmen yesterday. A return of good water supply to the borough through Monroe Water Supply Co. lines is hinged on delivery and installation of the equipment ordered.

Meanwhile the water supply in the borough remains unfit for drinking or cooking.

Motor May Be Usable

Another hopeful sign for the statement that the second motor used to man pumps by the company is being examined and factory officials believe it may be usable once repairs have been made.

One pump motor is now being used. With arrival of pipes and fittings for repair work on mains, engineers pointed out that one of their major worries would be over.

It will take time, however, to get the water supply back to normal. Another shipment of supplies needed is expected to arrive tonight, also. This is electrical equipment ordered from the Westinghouse outlet in Wilkes-Barre.

Inoculation Center To Be Established

A DELAWARE Water Gap typhoid inoculation clinic will be set up in the Gap fire station Sunday from 2 to 5 p. m., according to Dr. M. J. Leitner, pathologist at Monroe County General Hospital.

The clinic will give booster shots to persons who received their first shot last Sunday or Monday, the physician said. Persons who have not yet been inoculated will also be able to receive their first injection at these hours on Sunday, he said.

Persons who received first shots after Monday will receive their first booster shot on Sunday, Sept. 4, Dr. Leitner said.

Barrett People To Register For Red Cross Help

MONROE COUNTY Red Cross has set up a registration point in the American Legion hall in Buck Hill Falls for rehabilitation of Barrett Township residents.

Miss Hope Buck, a national Red Cross case worker, and George Riggs, assistant, are operating the station.

In Barrett Township, Red Cross efforts will be devoted almost entirely to rehabilitation. There have been very few cases of emergency need.

In order to receive free aid in reestablishing or rebuilding homes and acquiring furniture to replace that ruined in the flood, householders must register with Red Cross.

People Take It On Chin But Make Fine Comeback

By Roy Southworth

PEOPLE IN East Stroudsburg yesterday were pushing nature around for a change.

They were operating bulldozers, clamshells, trucks and a lot of other equipment all over the worst-hit flood area.

Their purposeful movement and the sound of hard work were in stark contrast with the wanton force of nature on a rampage just a week ago.

The scene of all this activity was the Lincoln Ave. and the Day St. areas on either side of Washington St., which leads to the State Bridge.

Coming Back

The Lincoln Ave. side was the worse hit — and it was precisely here that man was making his most remarkable comeback after taking it on the chin from Brodheads Creek.

Councilman Roy Lloyd, a man who is on the side of his fellowmen in this fight, backed his red jeep away from the fire station and swung around in S. Courtland St.

"Hop in," he said to a Daily Record reporter and away they went.

"You would never have thought it possible just a couple of days ago," he said. "People—they're wonderful."

Cleaning Up

He headed the jeep into the Lincoln Ave. area first, plunging into the midst of bustling, snorting bulldozers most of whose operators he knew by their first names.

"The boys are really cleaning up," he said. "We've got a Gilbert St. again — look there. Yesterday there wasn't any Gilbert St. at all, just a mudflat."

"Bulldozers shoved the mud and debris aside, disclosing fragments of pavement underneath. A little farther on, workers were clearing the east end of Harrison St. — a somewhat harder job because a house and a barn were resting at a crazy angle across it."

"They'll have this cleared out sooner than you think," said Roy.

Sweep Away Mess

Where there was space between houses, bulldozers had gone in and swept away the jumble of rubbish from gardens and lawns.

"All around here there were tons and tons of flour and feed from Traders Flour & Feed Co. and an awful lot of tires from Pat & Red's Tire Shop, all over the place," he said.

Dumptrucks squirmed their way out of the mud, carting earth to plug the dike where the flood had spilled in. Others were full of splintered trees.

"They're taking that out on the flats to the south and also on the playground to burn," Roy said.

People were working around their homes, too. They were bringing kitchen equipment and other furniture out into the yards to wash them off. They were loading some of their belongings into small trucks.

Some Progress

"Well, how're you coming?" Roy would call out.

The answer would be "Well, I guess we're making some progress" or else a smile that was tired but that was no longer a cover-up for fear and anxiety.

"Up there," Roy said, pointing out the third floor of a white clapboard house that was still firm on its foundation, "that's where we took the skunk out. Lady had a pet skunk with her."

He pointed out the high-water mark on several houses. It came up to the third story on houses that high or ran along the gable of two-story ones.

The red jeep came out at the Washington St. end of State Bridge, whose two spans had split asunder in the middle like the two parts of a gate.

Work On Bridge

But already there was the beginning of a new bridge. Steel gliders with a roadbed on them were jolted forward on the Stroudsburg side, where the approach will be a little to the north of where it used to be.

In the Day St. sector, work on individual homes was farther along than in the Lincoln Ave. area, chiefly because the flood had been a shade less severe.

As the jeep hustled across the Day St. bridge, Roy said: "Here's where we were launching boats. Took over 40 people out this way, night of the flood."

Farther into the area, Roy stopped to ask a contractor if his men were going to work today and Sunday. "That depends on how they feel about it," was the answer. "But I guess they will, all right."

Time Is Factor

"I hope they do," Roy said. "Time is the most important factor right now."

A Salvation Army girl leaned out of a canteen wagon and smiled. Here and there, householders were carrying debris to the curb.

"Golly, that reminds me," Roy said. "We're going to have to cart this stuff away—the borough will take care of it."

Trout Hatchery Survives Flood But Loss Heavy

THE PARADISE Brook Trout Co. is still in business although losses resulting from the flood were "staggering," Edwin Bessecker, secretary-treasurer, announced last night.

Bessecker said about 300 ponds of fish were lost. Damage was estimated at "a good many thousands of dollars."

—and the rate these people are working it'll be a real job."

"You know," he said on the way back to the fire station, "when this flood hit here, you just couldn't believe it. It was a bad dream. You wondered if you were really awake, or what."

People All Right

"But what I think is that it's just as hard to believe in the change here in just the last 24 hours. You just can't believe that, either."

"People," he said with a grin, "people—they're all right."

Saylorsburg Fire Co. Aux. Sends Food, Money

Saylorsburg—While this community was comparatively untouched by the flood, the hearts of its people were not. On Friday, Mrs. Grant Knowles, president of the Blue Ridge Hook and Ladder Company Auxiliary and a number of women were called to the firehall where more than 1,000 sandwiches and two milk cans of coffee were prepared and sent to the flood-stricken people in Stroudsburg.

At the meeting of the auxiliary on Tuesday night $100 was set aside to be used for flood relief as the president sees fit. There were about 20 members present for the meeting when plans were made for a series of penny suppers to raise money for the fire company.

The first will be held October 8 with Mrs. Knowles as chairman. The second is scheduled for November 5.

After the business session, games were enjoyed and refreshments were served by the committee in charge, of which Mrs. Dorothy Budge was chairman. September hostesses will be Mrs. Norman Greenmoyer, Mrs. Charles Kresge, Mrs. Blanche Marsh and Mrs. Leon Blake.

Just Between Us

—By Bobby Westbrook

THE NEWS of Jon Ketter's death, speeding like an arrow, seemed to pierce every heart. It drained away all the vitality, the determined cheerfulness, the feeling that we were at last getting on top of things.

To have so much of the glory and beauty, the sweetness and bright promise of his splendid youth snuffed out seemed more than anyone could bear.

Listening to his contemporaries who knew him best, you heard repeated over and over, "One thing, nobody will have anything but nice things to remember about Jon." "He was never mean, he was never fresh, he was never unkind." "And he made you feel good just to see him, because he was the happiest boy I know."

If we could, we might find comfort in the thought that there are many men who live to be a hundred who cannot leave such a heritage. It's not for Jon that we should sorrow but for ourselves, left so bereft.

But now is no time for self-pity. It's after the excitement has drained away, leaving only the weariness behind, that we'll be needed most. It might stiffen our backbone to know that when Jon's mother, arriving for her stint at the typhoid center, was told that she was wanted at the hospital, her first thought was that they needed her as a Gray Lady.

That his grandmother has been a pillar of comfort at the Stroudsburg Red Cross Disaster Center since it started. That Jon himself had been busy all this week with his father in food distribution.

We can hardly do less than to try to take up the slack.

Edinger Wedding This Afternoon

The Zion Evangelical and Reformed Church, Stroudsburg, will today be the scene of its first wedding since the disaster when Miss June Edinger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Edinger, formerly of 11 North Third Street, will become the bride of James Segedy, of 1570 Fleming St., Bethlehem.

The ceremony will be performed at 2:30 this afternoon by Rev. Frank H. Blatt. Friends and relatives are invited.

A modest amount of fat, included in a low-calorie diet, helps to prevent persistent hunger and fatigue.

"YOU WOMEN make me tired," snorts one disgruntled male. "Here we are, still digging ourselves out of a major catastrophe, and you are lamenting that the beauty salons are closed and you must postpone your permanents and facials. It doesn't make sense."

Doesn't it? I think it makes all kinds of sense . . . it's a good, healthy sign that those who have survived the devastation are looking ahead and not giving in to the gloomy "what's the use of living" attitude that can settle down all too quickly in the manner of fog over London.

During the war, Great Britain was forced to ration almost everything, and to make some things unavailable completely. One of the most seriously affected lines was cosmetics. On the surface one might think this fair and sensible. But the reaction was so great that the ban was almost immediately lifted. The government learned that women who are not well groomed and attractive, lose their confidence and much of their will to go on. Even the men were no better for having drab, unattractive wives and sweethearts—it was depressing and demoralizing.

That's the way it is everywhere . . . nothing in the world can make a woman feel grubbier than dirty hair . . . uncare for nails . . . no deodorant or cologne. And the males of our community who wonder why women are worried about their coiffure and the shade of their powder, should take a good look at their wives or mothers first thing in the morning and answer honestly the question: "Would I really want her to look like this ALL the time?" It's a rare female indeed who could pass this candid test with colors flying.

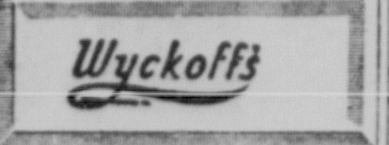

As a matter of fact, I think it's about time we do turn our thoughts to a bit of frivolity. I am sure there is not one of us who escaped the ravages of floodtime, who does not ache most sincerely for those who suffered physical and material loss. I am sure there is no one among us who didn't gladly share our wardrobes, food, facilities and money. But what good can we do our fellow men by going around scowling, shaking our heads, and squeezing tears from our eyes? It's time now for laughter, wherever there is enough cheer to induce it. . . . It's time to see a joke where there is one, and to appreciate it as something God-given to be shared as a load-lightener.

It's time now to appreciate beauty, even though in nothing more than gold coin dots spattered profusely over a heavenly-full, crisp crinoline of white nylon; or the lines of a perfume bottle, or a phrase from a song. It's time to admire the glint of make-believe gems in all the chunky fall jewelry; to study the lines of the stunning wool dresses just arrived in the fashion departments; to try on the adorable little hats with their powdering of jewels on rich black velvet. It's time to remember that nothing is so bad it couldn't be worse . . . and to think, "Part of the cleanup campaign must be excitement about the future—faith and anticipation."

Life goes on . . . the show goes on . . . eternally. One of the men at the radio station commented on this the other evening when, weary and dirty, he returned after some heartrending experiences in the devastated areas "You know what impressed me most in all this mess?" he asked. "Hearing that new baby cry over at the Methodist church. Here were people of all ages sitting around, and speculation about how many deaths there'd be. Then a newborn baby, with a will to live, opened its mouth and howled, and everyone began to smile." That's the way it is . . . because that's the way God meant it to be.

The Social Security office, Easton, has asked us to announce that next week, Monday through Friday, there will be representatives at the usual quarters in Borough Hall from 10 to 4 daily. This is a departure from the customary schedule, so please note the five-day hours of the coming week.

Communion Sunday
Sunday, August 29, is Communion Sunday for the Altar and Rosary Society of St. Matthew's Roman Catholic Church. Members may receive communion at either St. Luke's in Stroudsburg or St. Matthew's in East Stroudsburg.

Davey Crocket Party Is Given Donny G. Gilpin

Donald Gregory Gilpin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Gilpin, 13 N. Eighth St., Stroudsburg, celebrated his sixth birthday Wednesday afternoon at his home with a Davey Crocket party.

An afternoon of games was enjoyed and refreshments were served. Favors were miniature powder horns in keeping with the Davey Crocket theme. Donny received many gifts and cards. Those in attendance were Bobby Bixler, Philip Chamberlain, Braddy White, Johnny Miller and Donny, the guest of honor. Steve Schoonover was invited but was unable to attend.

Greentown Wedding Postponed

Greentown—The wedding of Blanche Manhart, daughter of Merton Manhart, to Edmund Zacharias, Greentown, which was to be held on September 4, has been postponed indefinitely because of flood conditions. The new date will be announced as soon as it is definite.

They are anxious to inform all their friends so that they may avoid an unnecessary trip into a region where travel is still so precarious.

Cancels Card Party

The Ann Logan Society of the General Hospital has cancelled the big card party at Pocono Manor scheduled for August 30. The co-chairmen, Mrs. Robert Miller and Mrs. Nelson Westbrook have requested Ann Logan money for tickets to refund it members who have received to the purchasers.

EAST STROUDSBURG High School's football team put on heavy equipment for the first time last night and took part in the initial contact work of the current campaign under the watchful eye of Coach Jack Kist and assistants. Tackling, blocking and dummy scrimmages made up most of last night's practice at Memorial Stadium. Yesterday morning's work-out was in light equipment and featured conditioning drills as the main order of business.

A total of 45 players have attended each of the East Stroudsburg practice sessions held in the past two days. Coach Jack Kist told his Cavaliers that they could register with the unemployment office if they so desired to help in the clean-up operations. The Cavaliers have almost three weeks of practice remaining before they open the football campaign against Slatton.

Football players in both Stroudsburg and East Stroudsburg are doing more than their bit in the current clean-up campaign. They are helping friends, relatives and neighbors in cleaning up homes ruined by the high tides of the Broadheads Creek last Thursday. Despite criticism by unknown people, these kids have been doing more than their share to help repair the mess brought about by the flood.

It appears as if the Bi-State League has given up hope of holding its post-season playoffs. The big trouble appears to be the fact that the date is much later than the circuit would like. The loss of Gordon Giffels Field to the Strouds is also another major factor in the probable dropping of playoff plans. No league meeting has been called to discuss the situation.

Is there another big story brewing in the Pocono Mountains Baseball League? Doug Schoonover, East Stroudsburg Junior High football coach, is without a car these days. Doug's automobile was badly damaged by waters from the overflowing Pocono Creek. Jim Thurston, social director at Pocono Gardens Lodge, keeping up with the pennant races despite the tough job of repairing flood damage at his resort.

Bernard "Doc" Helman, co-chairman of the Stroudsburg Relief Fund, has named Forest Heller to lead the drive for funds in the West End section of Monroe County. Helman is in charge of the "house-to-house" division of the drive for funds to assist those made homeless and those who lost all their possessions in the flood which raced through the lower streets in the borough last Thursday night. George Metropoulos, assistant football coach at Stroudsburg High, is one of the top level workers in the Stroudsburg Fund at the present time.

Jim Barnhardt, who began his professional career as a pitcher for Bangor, of the now defunct class "D" North Atlantic League, hurled a one-hit 3-0 victory for Portsmouth over Lynchburg in a class "B" Piedmont League game last week. The only hit off the right hander, a former student at East Stroudsburg State Teachers College, was a single in the seventh inning by Ray Stockton.

Barnhardt is a native of Easton. Baseball fans of Chattanooga, an entry in the Southern Association, recently held a "Jim Lemon Day." The big outfielder, who received his baseball start in the North Atlantic League, thanked his friends with a home run. The blow carried 420 feet and was of the grand-slam variety. It was number 20 of the season and brought his runs batted in total to 100. Lemon, who played in the NAL with Birmingham, N. J., and appeared many times in Stroudsburg, is the property of the Washington Senators.

First Ward won the second half championship in the Bangor Little League with a 5-3 verdict over Fourth Ward. Football experts in the Lehigh Valley pick Wilson Borough as the team to beat in the Lehigh-Northampton League this season. Coach Judd Hall has 18 lettermen returning from last year's squad.

Lesser Trounces Riley In Golf

CHARLOTTE, N.C., Aug. 26 (AP)—Pat Lesser of Seattle shot three under par golf to trounce Polly Riley, Fort Worth, Tex., veteran, 6 and 5, today in their Women's National Amateur golf tournament semifinals match.

Jane Nelson, Indianapolis school teacher, won the last two holes to edge Mrs. Scott Probasco Jr., Chattanooga, Tenn., 2 up and will meet Miss Lesser in tomorrow's 36-hole finals.

Cleveland's Pennant Hopes Fade As Polio Strikes Wertz

CLEVELAND, Aug. 26 (AP)—Vic Wertz, hitting her of the Cleveland Indians' 1954 World Series and a key man in the Tribe's uphill battle to retain the pennant, was stricken with polio today.

The husky 30-year-old first baseman became ill before last night's game with the New York Yankees. He complained of a headache, fever and sore throat.

Today at Lakeside Hospital Dr. Don Kelly, the baseball club's physician, diagnosed the illness as infantile paralysis.

"It's safe to assume," Kelly said, "that Wertz will be out for the remainder of the season."

No Paralysis

Kelly said there was no sign of paralysis and that Wertz' condition was "good." He said he planned no mass inoculation of the team and no quarantine, even for pitcher Art Houtteman, Wertz' roommate for road trips. The Indians have been at home a week.

Wertz and his wife, Lucille, who make their home in Detroit, have no children.

Two games behind the first-place Yankees, whom they met here again tonight, and with only 29 games left to play, the Indians will miss Wertz' batting power sorely in the stretch drive. Although his batting average was only .253, compared with .282 for his previous eight major league seasons, he had clubbed 14 homers and was fourth-high on the team in runs batted in.

Tribe Moves To Within Game Of Top By Downing Yankees

CLEVELAND, Aug. 26 (AP)—Cleveland's Indians climbed back to within one game of the league-leading New York Yankees tonight as the Tribe grabbed 12 hits in seven innings off southpaw Tommy Byrne and piled up a 1-2 victory. Right-hander Bob Lemon allowed the Yankees nine hits in the second of a three-game set, before a crowd of 43,612.

The Yankees scored in the fifth, when Phil Rizzuto socked his first homer of the season and in the ninth, when Gil McDougald hit No. 10.

Three Safeties

First baseman Ferris Fain got three hits off Byrne, and batted in two of the Tribe's five runs.

The Indians wasted no time in scoring in the first inning. Their lead-off man, Al Smith, singled to center, and so did Bobby Avila. Ralph Kiner worked Byrne for a walk, and the bases were loaded with none out.

Smith came home with the double run as Al Rosen hit into a double play. After Larry Doby drew a walk, Fain singled to left to bring in Avila. That ended the scoring, although Jim Hegan followed with a single. Doby got only as far as third as Fain was picked off rounding second.

In the Indians' bench were Larry Doby, suffering a pulled thigh muscle, and Gene Woodling, hit in the ribs by a pitched ball last night. Doby started the game, but was forced to the sidelines in the first, replaced by "Hot" Evers.

Another Cleveland hard-hitter, Vic Wertz, was in a hospital with polio. He complained of feeling ill before last night's opener, which the Yanks won 1-2.

Aussies Take 2-0 Lead In Davis Cup

By Will Grimsley

FOREST HILLS, N. Y., Aug. 26 (AP)—Australia's 20-year-old tennis "twins," Ken Rosewall and Lewis Hoad, struck a staggering double blow for recovery of the Davis Cup today by humbling America's proudest aces in the opening singles matches of the 44th challenge round.

Rosewall, pint-sized Australian national champion with radar shot control, set down Vic Seixas of Philadelphia, the U.S. titleholder, 6-3, 10-8, 4-6, 6-2. Then Hoad, the problem child with the rocket-like attack, all but shattered America's hopes by outgunning Wimbledon champion Tony Trabert, 4-6, 6-3, 6-3, 8-6, to give Australia a 2-0 lead.

Uncle Sam had banked on Trabert's powerful game, which had carried the Cincinnati boy to 16 tournament victories this year, to turn back the challenge of the young Aussies.

Tough Task

Now the Yankees are faced with the almost impossible task of having to win the final three matches to keep the big international bowl from another long trip across the Pacific Ocean.

Only once in this 55-year-old court competition has a team been able, after losing the two opening singles matches, to rally its forces for an ultimate triumph. Australia's Adrian Quist and John Bromwich did it in 1939 after dropping open singles to Bobby Riggs and Frank Parker.

Tomorrow Seixas and Trabert will team in doubles against Hoad and Rex Hartwig. On Sunday, the final singles assignments will send Hoad against Seixas and Rosewall against Trabert.

Bill Talbert, the United States' youthful crewcut captain, was disappointed, but not completely disillusioned.

"We can still do it," Talbert said. "We have the best doubles team in the world and Sunday's pairings are more favorable."

Seixas, who suffers from a Rosewall jinx, has an 8-2 record against Hoad while Trabert's big game is figured capable of smothering Rosewall's deft backcourt attack.

Harry Hopman, Australia's highly successful captain, was elated over the results. "We should clinch tomorrow," he said.

Olson Earns Close Decision

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 26 (AP)—Middleweight champion Carl "Bobo" Olson had his hands full all the way tonight but won an unpopular, unanimous decision before a boisterous crowd of over 10,000.

Olson weighed 165, Giambrà 161. The decision for the world championship in the nationally televised bout was greeted with loud boos despite the fact Olson was fighting before a hometown crowd.

Cubs Snap Losing Streak

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 26 (AP)—The Chicago Cubs snapped a seven-game losing streak tonight with Sam Jones pitching a three-hitter as the Cubs beat the Pittsburgh Pirates 6-3.

Jones, who earlier in the season pitched a no-hitter against the Pirates in Chicago, gave up two Pirate hits and two runs in the third inning after the Cubs had assumed a 5-0 lead. The hits were singles off the bats of Jerry Lynch and Preston Ward.

Braves Thump Giants, 7-1

NEW YORK, Aug. 26 (AP)—Milwaukee's Braves expanded their second place margin in the National League race to six games over third place New York tonight, clubbing the Giants 7-1 with Del Crandall powering a bases loaded home run in the second inning.

The Braves picked up their other runs in the sixth and seventh, but it was all over after Crandall's smash as right-hander Bob Buhl set down the Giants on seven hits for his fourth straight triumph and eighth in his last nine decisions. Buhl, now 13-8, gave five walks, three to Willie Mays.

Cardinals Cool Phillies, 4-1

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 26 (AP)—Willard Schmidt cut down the Philadelphia Phillies' bid for third place in the National League tonight as the St. Louis Cardinals broke the Phillies' six-game winning streak, 4-1.

Pocono Manor Pro Three Strokes Off Snead's Fast Pace In Montreal Open Golf Tournament

MONTREAL, Aug. 26 (AP)—Sam Snead of White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., shot a one-under par 69 today for a one stroke lead at the halfway mark of the $26,800 Montreal Open golf tournament.

Snead's 134 total for 26 holes stood up against totals of assault by hopefuls after the $5,000 top prize.

Up to the last hole, while a light thundershower fell, Vancouver's Stan Leonard had a glorious chance. At one time he was six under par, but he faltered at the 15th and 17th and his par on the 18th for a 66 and 36 hole total of 132.

Also crouching Snead with a 135 was Doug Ford of Klamath Lake, N. Y., who took the $5,000 prize with his 72-hole 265 over this same course two years ago. Ford, who bugged out a 66 yesterday, shot 69 today, the same figure Leonard scored in his first round.

Tigers Inflict Costly Loss On Red Sox In Flag Fight, 5-4

DETROIT, Aug. 26 (AP)—Erratic Billy Hoelt wobbled to his 13th victory today, spacing 11 hits as the Detroit Tigers dealt another jolt to the pennant hopes of the Boston Red Sox, 5-4.

Sammy White and Jim Piersall bruised Hoelt for home runs and the slender 21-year-old southpaw was in trouble in every inning but the sixth.

But he was effective when things got rough.

Bill Tuttle's homer plus Earl Torgeson's single and Ray Boone's double high off the leftfield screen shot Detroit to a 2-0 edge in the first inning.

Deadlock

Boston tied it up on White's second inning homer and Jackie Jensen's sacrifice fly in the third, following singles by Billy Goodman and Ted Williams.

The Tigers scored twice in the fourth to go ahead to stay. Hoelt's single and Tuttle's double produced one run and Tuttle came across on Torgeson's single to tie it.

Detroit added its fifth run in the fifth on singles by Jim Delsing, Hoelt and Harvey Kuenn.

Singles by pinchhitter Carl Olson and Goodman, plus Williams' sacrifice fly accounted for a Boston run in the seventh. Piersall's home-come in the eighth.

Morrisville Wins Crown

WILLIAMSPORT, Pa., Aug. 26 (AP)—Rich Compinski's seventh inning home run into the leftfield seats gave Morrisville, Pa., a 4-3 extra-inning victory over Delaware Township, N. J., and the championship of the Little League world series today.

Compinski's home run came after Morrisville tied the game at 3-3 in the fourth inning on Maurice Floucke's homer.

The winning tally came off losing pitcher Tom Trotman, who relieved starting hurler Herbert Harrison at the start of the seventh. Harrison was removed from the game under a tournament rule limiting the number of innings he could pitch.

Three Hits

Harrison gave up only three hits and struck out 13 men during his six innings on the hill.

Relief pitcher Vince Straczynski tossed the seventh inning for Pennsylvania and got credit for the win after Tommy Kaczor had hurled the first six.

Leroy Papley's 7th inning single with Frank Salter on base gave Auburn, Ala., third place with a 1-0 win over Winchester, Mass., in the consolation game.

Mountains Loop To Play Three Games

SAYLORSBURG — Pocono Mountains League activity will resume full scale tomorrow, with the three baseball games to be played, it was revealed last night by John Wernett, circuit secretary.

Each of the three games is a makeup of postponements brought about earlier in the season.

League leading Saylorsburg will collide with Moorestown, at Nazareth, while Tannersville plays at Bushkill and Lake Harmony plays at least one game at Reders.

Each of the games are listed for 2 p.m.

Season End

Wernett also revealed that all managers of contending teams must have their makeup games complete by Sunday, September 4.

If a tie should exist for any of the top four positions at the end of the regular season, September 4, there will be special playoff before the regular post-season grind.

Wernett also announced that Barrett had cancelled its game with Lake Harmony scheduled for a week from tomorrow.

Redlegs Win Third Straight From Dodgers

BROOKLYN, Aug. 26 (AP)—Johnny Temple's double, his third hit of the game, brought in the winning run as Cincinnati rallied for two in the eighth inning tonight to drop Brooklyn 4-2 and knock the National League leaders to their third straight defeat.

Temple, who had driven in the Redlegs' first run with a single in the third inning, lined his double to center with two away, scoring Roy McMillan who had singled. Then Temple came home himself on a single by "Smoky" Burgess.

Slump

The Dodgers, who have lost nine of their last 13 games, hold a 10-game lead at present over the Milwaukee Braves, who beat New York 7-1 tonight.

About the lone bright spot for the league leaders was the end of Duke Snider's batting slump. After tumbling from 331 to 299, Snider turned the fans' boos to cheers as he lined three straight singles following a swinging strike-out in the first inning. He hadn't had three hits in one game since July 5.

McMillan's single preceded Temple's base knock in the third and Redlegs made it 2-0 in the fourth on a walk and singles by Gus Bell and Sam Mele as Carl Erskine went down to his sixth defeat in 16 decisions.

Gil Hodges hit his 23rd home run to lead off the sixth.

21 Guests Evacuated

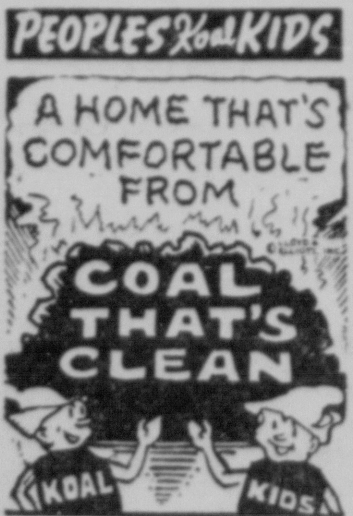

BUSHKILL—Twenty-one guests of Kutay's Riverside Gardens were evacuated just ahead of the flood waters of the Delaware River at daybreak Friday morning. The operation is located just north of here on Rt. 209.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Kutay, operators of the resort, moved their guests to the Kutay winter home on a high bank across Rt. 209. They managed to take along enough provisions. Cooking facilities and good water was available.

Later in the day Nelson Albrecht and Andrew Lewis moved upstream in a motorboat to check on safety of people at Kutays. They also moved in additional food.

By Saturday the water dropped and the people were able to move out by cars over 209 to their homes in nearby tourist homes.

Rainfall reaches as much as 140 inches a year on mountain slopes of the Olympic peninsula in Washington, says the National Geographic Society.
